

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

Overview

Edison Electric Institute (EEI) International Programs provides the global electric power industry with public policy leadership, strategic business intelligence, and a platform for industry dialogue and collaboration. Through a combination of essential member services and global stakeholder engagement, EEI is working to support the development of affordable, clean, reliable, and resilient power systems of the future.

Founded in 1933, the Edison Electric Institute is the world's largest global association of electric companies, representing all U.S. investor-owned electric companies and more than 65 international electric companies with operations in over 90 countries.

Value Proposition

For electric power companies seeking to attract investment, mitigate risk, grow their business, and satisfy customer expectations in a dynamic business environment; visibility, strategic engagement, and influence across a globally-interconnected industry are strategic imperatives. EEI membership supports these objectives by providing access to an international network of industry stakeholders, creating opportunities for accelerated learning and knowledge sharing, and elevating the visibility of member company efforts, gaining access to strategic business information.

Special Initiatives

Africa Utility Power Sector Exchange (AUPSE)

Launched in 2017, AUPSE is a senior executive knowledge exchange and peer-to-peer networking platform created to advance operational excellence in the African electric power sector.

Global Electrification Forum

The Global Electrification Forum (GEF), held each Spring, is EEI's largest annual gathering of member company CEOs, industry executives, and international thought leaders from across the world and provides a unique opportunity for networking and collaboration.

Thomas Edison International Fellowship Program

The Thomas Edison International Fellowship Program supports the next generation of electric company leaders through professional development opportunities and strategic innovative research projects on emerging electric power industry trends.

Partnership Opportunities

EEI frequently partners with other associations, organizations, and research institutions on energy sector research, analysis, and knowledge development activities. If your organization is interested in working with EEI, contact Erin Brogan at ebrogan@eei.org.
