

Reducing Carbon Emissions

- Nearly 40 percent of U.S. electricity comes from carbon-free sources
- As of 2019, electric power industry CO₂ emissions are estimated to be approximately 30 percent below 2005 levels
- Trajectory is expected to continue based on current trends

Source: Developed from U.S. Department of Energy, Energy Information Administration (EIA), Monthly Energy Outlook, November 2019.

Note: p = preliminary